Swimming Upstream: I purchased a panel from Bolt a few years ago. After the program we had on working with panels I went to work to rearrange it and came up with this plan. I was running out of the blue fabric and had to get creative with the border. I've finished the top. I'll challenge myself to get it quilted as a UFO challenge.

The first being held by my grandson and his bride is called The London Quilt. They live in London so for Christmas I made them a Kaffe Fassett fabric quilt. He is 6'7" so the quilt is not a small one.

The next quilt a smaller one is from blocks I won in I think 2019 or 2018 from the guilds block of the month. There were 12 blocks and I added the tan corners. I finally got it finished for Christmas this year.

Miss Jump's Pond Quilt
72 x 74

My husband says these do not look like fish so the quilt will go to my brother.

Pattern from Star Quilt Company, designs by Linda Brannock & Rita

Nice work!

Where would we be during these times without projects to work on and be inspired by?

That's it for now.

See you next month
